

WFH = WTB

Many of us aren't headed back to the office any time soon. Whether as a leader you think that's good or bad news, there's no question Working From Home (WFH) requires Working Together Better (WTB).

BrightWays has designed three affordable remote workshops – all based on taking an insightful 360-degree view – designed to help you and your team WTB.

With custom content, engaging exercises, loads of resources, actionable takeaways, and plenty of laughter, BrightWays workshops consistently earn 4.5+ OUT OF 5 from participants.

What do we get out of the WTB remote workshops?

Teams that WTB are poised to deliver higher performance – faster and more reliably – while feeling greater satisfaction (think: retention!). See chart on next page for more positive outcomes.

Here's what BrightWays clients say:

“

“Amy, your workshops helped my leadership team improve our clarity, collaboration, and performance beyond measure.”

VP, Fortune Global 200 company

“I am a better leader because of my 360 with you. It was an invaluable experience. I'm growing again in ways that really matter to my team and advance my career.”

SVP, Marketing Department

“The workshop was incredibly helpful in exploring the communication styles of others and building the kind of team spirit we so want and need so badly right now. It was super-practical, and I can already see how it will help us work together better as a team.”

CEO, PR Agency

How much do the WTB workshops cost?

Starting at just $1,500, BrightWays workshops are priced for COVID-era budgets. See next page for details.

What are the WTB workshop options?

1 Comms360

There's no doubt communication is a key aspect of WTB. Using DISC, a powerful assessment tool of behavioral preferences, BrightWays helps your team members understand their own communication styles and then, applying real-life examples, shows them how to communicate with one another most effectively – especially under stressful/remote conditions. Plus, you'll see how the team stacks up as a whole, revealing hidden strengths to leverage and potential gaps to fill.

2 Team360

BrightWays finds the function in Patrick Lencioni's renowned “Five Dysfunctions of a Team” by taking a deep dive into your team's dynamics to assess how well they create trust, commitment, productive conflict, accountability, and results. This Lencioni team assessment and BrightWays workshop scratch beneath the surface to reveal authentic “ah-ha's” and create practical solutions that help your team WTB.

3 Leader360

Ever wondered how you're doing as a leader in the eyes of your team? What are your superpowers? Where do your next-level opportunities lie? High achievers want to know! Get an outside-in view from your team through a custom, confidential leadership assessment by BrightWays. We will be here to help you interpret the feedback results from your team, celebrate your accomplishments, and develop a plan for your continued growth.
